

NETASQ appoints Shameem Ibrahim as its UK and Ireland Managing Director

This appointment supports NETASQ's strategy of international growth.

Paris - France, January 13th 2009

Shameem Ibrahim brings with him 18 years of management experience with software vendors. He joins NETASQ from Phion where he most recently was UK Country Manager. Prior to this, Shameem was UK Country Manager for Astaro. Before joining Astaro, he held managing positions in sales and marketing in prominent IT companies.

His thorough knowledge of the security market and the outstanding results which he achieved in his previous positions, enable Dominique Meurisse Executive Vice President Sales and Marketing to declare:

"We fully trust Shameem to drive NETASQ's growth in UK and Ireland. The UK is a significant market for us, where we already operate indirectly through our resellers. Shameem's appointment is in line with our strategy of sustained international growth. We already have subsidiaries in the BeNeLux, Italy and Spain and are operating worldwide through our trusted distributor network."

"I'm really excited in joining NETASQ because the company has a great reputation in the marketplace with superior solutions and happy customers. NETASQ's solution portfolio is feature rich incorporating cutting edge technology, it is easy to use and importantly for these days is highly affordable. I'm going to make sure that we offer the best service and opportunities for our customers and partners past, present and future" concludes Shameem Ibrahim, NETASQ UK and Ireland Managing Director.
